What is a monthly cap on unarranged overdraft charges?

- 1. Each current account will set a monthly maximum charge for:
- (a) going overdrawn when you have not arranged an overdraft; or
- (b) going over/past your arranged overdraft limit (if you have one).
- 2. This cap covers any:
- (a) interest and fees for going over/past your arranged overdraft limit;
- (b) fees for each payment your bank allows despite lack of funds (Metro Bank does not charge for this); and
- (c) fees for each payment your bank refuses due to lack of funds (Metro Bank does not charge for this)

When you don't have enough money in your account

If we receive a request for a payment but you don't have enough money in your account to cover it, we will either:

- I Give or extend an unarranged overdraft and make the payment
- Refuse payments due to lack of funds

If deducting interest causes you to go overdrawn or increases your overdraft, we'll only charge interest on the new balance. Interest will accrue daily on the overdraft balance (excluding any default sums) and will be applied to your account monthly.

We may introduce new charges under this agreement on giving you not less than two months' written notice. For more information please see sections 3 and 10 of "Our Service Relationship with Personal Customers".
